An accident

It was a sunny day. Therefore, I rode bicycles with my friend in the park. We had a great time.

After that, we were very tired, so we took a rest under the tree. I took a towel to wash my face. Who could have that thought? When I went near the river, I fell into the water. I was scared. I struggled unceasingly. At that time, my friend came to help me and plucked me out of the danger. I was soaked. I felt very sad.

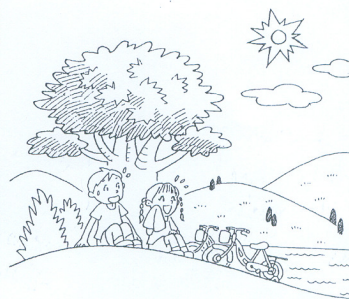

Finally, I went home and thanked my friend. In the future, I would be more careful.
