

A Book Report

Chow Tsz Wing, Apple

Matt was the main character in the story “Matt and the Miracle Drink”. He liked playing basketball and wanted to become a basketball player. However, he was too short, so when he played basketball, the tall boys always made fun of him. Then one day, he found a strange bottle in the changing room and he drank from it. The next day, he became much taller. However, after one week he became short again. Although he still did not play basketball very well, he started to love football and became very good at football playing. In the end, Matt became a famous football player and a very happy man.
